GENERAL INFORMATION

BETWEEN for Alfalfa is a blend of macro-nutrients, micronutrients, soil penetrants, and NAP's Phosphate Enhancing STV chemistry for application in the first irrigation after cutting. It promotes water penetration and provides needed nutrients for fast regrowth.

Phosphorus enhances rhizobial symbiosis: including nodule number, nodule weight, plant dry matter production, plant nitrogen concentration and nitrogen fixation.

Potassium aids in rapid regrowth after a cut.

Boron and molybdenum are often low to deficient in soils irrigated with river waters in the PNW. These micronutrients are necessary for good stands and production.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE

Application Rate: Apply through the irrigation water at 2 to 5 gallons per acre in the first irrigation after cutting. Can also be beneficial when applied in the first and/or last irrigation of the season.

Do not mix with calcium or sulfate containing products.
